We trace out the evolution of social capital research as it pertains to economic development, and identify four distinct approaches: the communitarian view, the networks view, the institutional view, and the synergy view. All have their strengths, but our survey of the evidence suggests that the synergy view, with its emphasis on incorporating different levels and dimensions, and its ...

Predicting Community Evolution in Social Networks ... Social communities are evolving together with the changes of the entire network; they appear, disappear, merge, split as well as new members join or leave existing groups. Developing methods to track such group evolution makes it possible to understand the background and reasons ruling human behaviour, and to use them in facing with many ...
